12/27/76

Dear Harold,

I talked to Mary & she said she would be glad to work on the indexes. Somehow, we met the deadline on our document production, so I won't be working overtime again for at least several weeks. That gives me some free time in which I can help Mary with the cards & do whatever else you'd like me to do. Just because I'm working, don't hesitate to ask me to do something. For the most part, my evenings & weekends are free.

You'll be happy to know that Mary has also joined the ranks of the employed. She got a job as a teacher & house mother at a home for retarded children. She's really excited because that's what she wanted to do. Her job provides a good bit of free time also, so between the two of us we should have no problem with the indexes. Just let me know exactly what you want done.

Best,
Karen